RECENT SUCCESS STORIES

U-RC EVENT SERIES - THE COST FACTOR - AN ESTIMATION ANALYSIS PROGRAM

UWDMA's new initiative U-RC, UWDMA Regional Conferences is aimed to bring together the best of marketing and production minds together to reinvent the UPVC Window & educate and exchange best practices from across the Country. The first in the series is "The Cost Factor" - an estimation analysis program, has been put together with the best in the Industry to bring out a formula to arrive at the COST. Margins, product prices may differ from supplier to supplier but the costs essentially remain the same unless someone ignorantly miscalculates them. The Cost Factor - advises you to put the money where it should be - in your bank- and warns you of potential pitfalls in the Industry

UWDMA extends its reach to the 100s of UPVC window producers across the country with this regional program in every major city possible. We have successfully organized this event in Chennai (May 2017), Bengaluru (June 2017) and Pune (July 2017) with a very interactive audience comprising primarily of UPVC window producers. The Program Agenda would be as follows:

- Opening Session
- Presentation of 10 minutes by the sponsor(s)
- The Cost Factor- Presentation
- Panel Discussion - with moderators
- Live Case Study- of 3-4 Window producers present

On completion of the U-RC Series on The Cost Factor, UWDMA proposes to start a monthly program for Builders and Developers, which will also be taken to all major cities in the country.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Dear Friends,

I am really grateful to the wonderful support from members and industry leaders in conducting The UWDMA Regional Conferences - a series of multi-city programs designed to educate the Window Producers on costing/estimation. Aptly named as The Cost Factor, the first two editions in Chennai and Bengaluru was very well received. Many participants acknowledged it as an eye opener. Window producers are the main drivers of the UPVC Window Industry. Of late many closed down their business due to multiple reasons but the most common was the wrong estimation. In the absence of any books or guides in this business, UWDMA Team took up this task of putting the various costs on the table and opening up the debate on what is happening in the market. I am thankful to Mr. Veeramanikandan - our Tamil Nadu Chapter Head and Mr. Narendra Patel - South Zone Head in getting the industry together for the event and motivating them to open up for discussion.

Mario Schmidt

This series does not aim at cartelization of the industry but to unite us all to fight for our rights and gain more value. It is made especially for all the new comers showcasing the current business model of the industry. Since a turnkey contract for supply and installation is given to the window fabricator, different risk factors to the fabricator are very high compare to industry where only supply of material is going to happen like uPVC pipes.
